

From the R. G. Potter-U of L Collection

BACK WHEN . . .

Streetcars Here Ran 'Allegro'

This photograph of "open summer" streetcars in Louisville was taken around 1910. Also known as "allegro cars," they were decorated with colored lights, and could be used for entertainment at night by parties of people who rented the cars and rode around the whole streetcar circuit.